Page
1. Principal School Officers in Cities and Other Urban Places ... 1
2. Superintendents of Catholic Parochial Schools ... 60

1. PRINCIPAL SCHOOL OFFICERS IN CITIES AND OTHER URBAN PLACES OF 2,500 POPULATION AND MORE [1]

[Explanation: Listing is by State, urban community, population for the city or area served by the school system where obtainable (census of 1940), and those persons reported to be filling the positions of superintendents, business managers (B. M.), and research directors (R. D.), regardless of local titles. Information for this section of the Educational Directory is collected by postal card. In September a card is sent to the superintendent of schools of each city with a population of 2,500 or more, as listed in the U. S. Census for 1940, requesting that changes in chief school officers be noted and the card returned at once. If the card is not returned previous listings are used.

[1] In a few States the schools in all cities are under the supervision of the local county superintendent, and in several other States some of the cities have this administrative arrangement. As part I of the Educational Directory (State and County School Officers) is not compiled by the U. S. Office of Education until after the November elections, the listings therein of county superintendents invariably show some changes over part II which is compiled as of October.

An institution is listed in this directory only once under the State in which it is located. Arrangement of the data shown is uniform as follows:

For institutions organized as universities:
Name of institution, location (accreditation, control, student body).
Names of officers as follows:
President.
Chief business officer—comptroller, treasurer, bursar, etc.
Admissions officer—registrar, recorder, secretary, etc.
Dean of men.
Dean of women.
Arts and science college—dean.
Professional schools[1]—deans or directors.
Summer session—dean or director.

For independent colleges of arts and sciences, professional schools, and teachers colleges:
All data as above, except those relating to professional schools.

For normal schools and junior colleges:

[1]Some universities maintain accredited departments which are the equivalent of schools in other universities, but such departments are not listed unless they are separately organized, with a dean or director in charge.

Name of institution, location, etc.
Name of president, dean, or director.
Summer session—dean or director.

CLASSIFICATION OF INSTITUTIONS

Institutions are classified according to their offerings into six types:

1. College or university offering liberal arts; 4-year; degree-granting.
2. Professional or technological school—independently controlled.
3. Teachers college; 4-year; degree-granting.
4. Normal school; 2- or 3-year; does not grant degrees.
5. Negro institutions of all types.
6. Junior college; 2-year; does not grant degrees.

ABBREVIATIONS AND SYMBOLS

In parentheses immediately following the name and location of an institution, the abbreviations indicate three facts separated by semicolons:

1. Accreditation of the institution by one or more of the national or regional accrediting associations.
2. Control of the institution whether public, private, or denominational.
3. The Student-Body:
   Coed.—Coeducational—for both men and women.

ACCREDITATION

Colleges and Universities

Colleges and universities are accredited by seven national or regional accrediting associations. These associations are indicated throughout this directory by the following abbreviations:

A, Association of American Universities—a national accrediting association.
E, New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
M, Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
N, North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
S, Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
T, American Association of Teachers Colleges—national.
W, Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools—regional.

†—Preceding any of the above letters indicates that the institution is rated in class B.

‡—Preceding any of the above letters indicates that the institution is provisionally accredited, or accredited with some reservation, or is admitted on probation.

A dash (—), instead of any of the above symbols, indicates that the institution is not accredited by any national or regional accrediting association.

The accreditation or approval of colleges and universities by State departments of education or State universities is not shown in this directory, but may be found in U. S. Office of Education Bulletin 1944, No. 3, entitled "Accredited Higher Institutions."

Professional Schools

Professional schools are accredited by a separate group of associations. The symbol * denotes that a professional school is accredited by or is a member of its professional organization.

Architecture—National Architectural Accrediting Board.
Business—American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business.
Chemistry—American Chemical Society.
Dentistry—Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association.
Engineering—Engineers' Council for Professional Development.[2]
Forestry—Society of American Foresters.
Journalism—American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism.
Law—American Bar Association.
Library Science—American Library Association.
Medicine—American Medical Association.
Music—National Association of Schools of Music.
Nursing—National League of Nursing Education.[3]
Occupational Therapy—American Medical Association.
Optometry—International Association of Boards of Examiners in Optometry.
Osteopathy—American Osteopathic Association.
Pharmacy—American Council on Pharmaceutical Education, Inc.
Physical Therapy—American Medical Association.
Social work—American Association of Schools of Social Work.
Theology—American Association of Theological Schools.
Veterinary Medicine—American Veterinary Medical Association.

NOTE.—The U. S. Office of Education does NOT accredit or approve any educational institutions.

[2]Accreditation by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development is for individual undergraduate curricula. Some institutions have accredited curricula in a number of engineering fields, but as departments in the various subject-fields are not listed in the directory, the symbol means that the institution to which it is affixed has one or more accredited engineering curricula. The complete list of engineering curricula accredited by the council is contained in the Thirteenth Annual Report of the Engineers' Council for Professional Development, September 30, 1945.

[3]The National League of Nursing Education has issued a list of accredited nursing schools. Only those schools which are divisions of colleges and universities are listed in the Educational Directory.

CONTROL

The legal control of institutions (NOT support or affiliation) is shown for each institution with the following abbreviations:

C.—City or municipal government—public control.
Church—Refer to abbreviations—denominational control.
Co.—County government—public control.
Dist.—District government—public control.
Nat.—National or Federal Government—public control.
P.—Private; independent of church or state—private control.
St.—State government—public control.
Ter.—Territorial government—public control.
Twp.—Township government—public control.

Note.—Associations are entered under their corporate names. The first item is the name of the association and the address of the headquarters if maintained; the second is the name and address of the president or chairman; the third is the name and address of the secretary. Titles when given are enclosed in parentheses. Where no address is given for an official, it is the same as for the association. The fourth item lists official publications and frequency of issue. Associations from which recent information was not received or was not available because of war conditions are indicated by an asterisk.

Abbreviations indicating frequency of issue of publications are as follows: an., annual; bien., biennial; bm., bimonthly; bw., biweekly; ir., irregular; m., monthly; nos., numbers issued each year; q., quarterly; sa., semiannual; sm., semimonthly; w., weekly.

Directories and yearbooks are entered under titles.

PART II

COUNTY AND CITY SCHOOL OFFICERS*

CONTENTS

	Page
County and County School Officers and City and City School Officers	2
Superintendents of Catholic Parochial Schools	111

Explanation: County school officers; i. e., superintendent, business manager (B. M.), and research director (R. D.), are listed by State and by county or similar area. (For example, in Connecticut the towns constitute a unit for supervisory purposes.)

City school officers; i. e., superintendent, business manager (B. M.), and research director (R. D.), are also listed by State, and by city or urban community if incorporated and having a population of 2,500 or more. For each State the list of city school officers follows the list of county school officers. The number in parenthesis after the name of each city, if incorporated, indicates the population according to the 1940 census.

Officers of Catholic parochial schools are listed by city according to the headquarters of the supervising official.

Information for this section of the educational directory is collected in September. A request is sent to each State department of education asking for a correct list of county school officers, and another request is sent to the superintendent of schools of each city having a population of 2,500 or more, as listed in the U. S. Census Report for 1940, asking for a correct list of the chief city school officers. If the information is not provided, previous listings are used.

* In a few States, having the county unit plan for school administration, all schools of each county are under the supervision of the county superintendent; in some other States this is true for some city schools, but not for all. (See footnote 1 in connection with certain States.)

Index	121

An institution is listed in this directory only once under the State in which it is located. Arrangement of the data shown is uniform as follows:

For institutions organized as universities:

Name of institution, location (accreditation, control, student body).

Names of officers as follows:

President.

Chief business officer—comptroller, treasurer, bursar, etc.

Admissions officer—registrar, recorder, secretary, etc.

Dean of men.

Dean of women.

Arts and science college—dean.

Professional schools [1]—deans or directors.

Summer session—dean or director.

For independent colleges of arts and sciences, professional schools, and teachers colleges:

All data as above, except those relating to professional schools.

[1] Some universities maintain accredited departments which are the equivalent of schools in other universities, but such departments are not listed unless they are separately organized, with a dean or director in charge.

For normal schools and junior colleges:
Name of institution, location, etc.
Name of president, dean, or director.
Summer session—dean or director.

CLASSIFICATION OF INSTITUTIONS

Institutions are classified according to their offerings into six types:

1. College or university offering liberal arts; 4-year; degree-granting.
2. Professional or technological school—independently controlled.
3. Teachers college; 4-year; degree-granting.
4. Normal school; 2- or 3-year; does not grant degrees.
5. Negro institutions of all types.
6. Junior college; 2-year; does not grant degrees.

ABBREVIATIONS AND SYMBOLS

In parentheses immediately following the name and location of an institution, the abbreviations indicate three facts separated by semicolons:

1. Accreditation of the institution by one or more of the national or regional accrediting associations.
2. Control of the institution whether public, private, or denominational.
3. The Student-Body:
   Coed.—Coeducational—for both men and women.

ACCREDITATION

Colleges and Universities

Colleges and universities are accredited by seven national or regional accrediting associations. These associations are indicated throughout this directory by the following abbreviations:

A, Association of American Universities—a national accrediting association.
E, New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
M, Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
N, North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.

S, Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
T, American Association of Teachers Colleges—national.
W, Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools—regional.
†—Preceding any of the above letters indicates that the institution is rated in class B.
‡—Preceding any of the above letters indicates that the institution is provisonally accredited, or accredited with some reservation, or is admitted on probation.
(—)—Not accredited by any national or regional accrediting association.

The accreditation or approval of colleges and universities by State departments of education or State universities is not shown in this directory, but may be found in U. S. Office of Education Bulletin 1944, No. 3, entitled "Accredited Higher Institutions."

Professional Schools

Professional schools are accredited by a separate group of associations. The symbol * denotes that a professional school is accredited by or is a member of its professional organization.

Architecture—National Architectural Accrediting Board.
Business—American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business.
Chemistry—American Chemical Society.
Dentistry—Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association.
Engineering—Engineers' Council for Professional Development.[2]
Forestry—Society of American Foresters.
Journalism—American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism.
Law—American Bar Association.
Library Science—American Library Association.
Medicine—American Medical Association.
Music—National Association of Schools of Music.
Nursing—National League of Nursing Education.[3]

Osteopathy—American Osteopathic Association.
Pharmacy—American Council on Pharmaceutical Education, Inc.
Physical therapy—American Medical Association.
Public health—American Public Health Association.
Social work—American Association of Schools of Social Work.
Theology—American Association of Theological Schools.
Veterinary medicine—American Veterinary Medical Association.

NOTE.—The U. S. Office of Education does NOT accredit or approve any educational institutions.

[2] Accreditation by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development is for individual undergraduate curricula. Some institutions have accredited curricula in a number of engineering fields, but as departments in the various subject-fields are not listed in the directory, the symbol means that the institution to which it is affixed has one or more accredited engineering curricula. The complete list of engineering curricula accredited by the council is contained in the Fourteenth Annual Report of the Engineers' Council for Professional Development.

[3] The National League of Nursing Education has issued a list of accredited nursing schools. Only those schools which are divisions of colleges and universities are listed in the Educational Directory.

CONTROL

The legal control of institutions (NOT support or affiliation) is shown for each institution with the following abbreviations:

C.—City or municipal government—public control.
Church—Refer to abbreviations—denominational control.
Co.—County government—public control.
Dist.—District government—public control.

PART 2

COUNTY AND CITY SCHOOL OFFICERS AND SUPERINTENDENTS OF PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS

	Page
County and County School Officers and City and City School Officers	2
Superintendents of Catholic Parochial Schools	77
Superintendents of Lutheran Parochial Schools	82

Explanation:

County* school superintendents with their post office addresses are listed by State and by county. (See footnote.)

City school officers (superintendent, business manager B. M., and research director R. D.) are listed by State and by school district (city, town, borough, or village) if, according to the 1940 census, the population was 2,500 or more. The list of these officers, for each State, follows the list of county school superintendents. The number in parenthesis which follows the name of the school district or city, indicates the population.

Superintendents of Catholic parochial schools with their addresses are listed according to Archdiocese and Diocese.

Superintendents of Lutheran parochial schools with their addresses are listed according to supervisory district.

*The county, or part of it, is a unit for school supervision in most of the States. In a few States, all schools of each county are under the supervision of the county superintendent; in other States, this is true for some but not all schools of the county, for large city school systems commonly have their own school superintendents independent of the county school system. In the New England States, the county is not a unit for school supervision; there, the unit for this service (usually excepting certain city school systems) is composed of two or more town [township] school districts; in these States, such a unit for school supervision is designated "district" or "union." In New York, the unit for school supervision (excepting any school district with a population of 5,000 or more) is the county or a part of the county and is designated "district." In Utah, the unit for school supervision is a city, a county, or a part of a county and is designated "district." In Virginia, the unit for school supervision is a city, a county, or a union of two counties and is designated "division."

An institution is listed in this directory under the State in which its post office is located. A branch institution is listed directly after its parent institution, with a cross reference in the alphabetical and classification list to facilitate finding of the data. Arrangement of the data shown is uniform as follows:

For institutions organized as universities:

Name of institution, location (accreditation, control, student body).

Names of officers as follows:

President or chancellor.

Dean.

Chief business officer.

Admissions officer, registrar, recorder.

Librarian.

Chief personnel officer, dean of women, dean of men.
Dean or director of each professional school or college.[1]
Dean of the graduate school.
Director of summer session.

For all other institutions of higher education:
All data as above, except those relating to professional schools.

CLASSIFICATION OF INSTITUTIONS

Institutions are classified according to their offerings into four types:

1. Colleges and universities offering liberal arts; 4-year; degree-granting.
2. Professional and technological schools—independently controlled.
3. Teachers colleges (4-year; degree-granting) and normal schools (2- or 3-year; non-degree-granting).
4. Junior colleges; 2- or 3-year; not granting baccalaureate degrees.

ABBREVIATIONS AND SYMBOLS

In parentheses immediately following the name and location of an institution, the abbreviations indicate four facts separated by semicolons:

1. Accreditation of the institution by one or more of the national or regional accrediting associations.
2. Control of the institution whether public, private, or denominational.
3. The Student-Body:
   Coed.—Coeducational—for both men and women.
   Cord.—Coordinate—separate colleges for men and women.

ACCREDITATION

Colleges and Universities

Colleges and universities are accredited by seven national or regional accrediting associations. These associations are indicated throughout this directory by the following abbreviations:

A, Association of American Universities—a national accrediting association.
E, New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.

M, Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
N, North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
S, Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
T, American Association of Teachers Colleges—national.
W, Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools—regional.
†—Preceding any of the above letters indicates that the institution is rated in class B.
‡—Preceding any of the above letters indicates that the institution is provisionally accredited, or accredited with some reservation, or is admitted on probation.
(—)—Not accredited by any national or regional accrediting association.

The accreditation or approval of colleges and universities by State departments of education or State universities is not shown in this directory, but may be found in U. S. Office of Education Bulletin 1944, No. 3, entitled "Accredited Higher Institutions."

Professional Schools

Professional schools are accredited by a separate group of associations. The symbol * denotes that a professional school is accredited by or is a member of its professional organization.

Architecture—National Architectural Accrediting Board.
Business—American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business.
Chemistry—American Chemical Society.
Dentistry—Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association.
Engineering—Engineers' Council for Professional Development.[2]
Forestry—Society of American Foresters.
Journalism—American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism.
Law—American Bar Association.
Library Science—American Library Association.

Optometry—International Association of Boards of Examiners in Optometry.
Osteopathy—American Osteopathic Association.
Pharmacy—American Council on Pharmaceutical Education, Inc.
Physical therapy—American Medical Association.
Public health—American Public Health Association.

[2] Accreditation by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development is for individual undergraduate curricula. Some institutions have accredited curricula in a number of engineering fields, but as departments in the various subject-fields are not listed in the directory, the symbol means that the institution to which it is affixed has one or more accredited engineering curricula. The complete list of engineering curricula accredited by the council is contained in the Fourteenth Annual Report of the Engineers' Council for Professional Development.

[3] The National League of Nursing Education has issued a list of accredited nursing schools. Only those schools which are divisions of colleges and universities are listed in the Educational Directory.

Social work—American Association of Schools of Social Work.
Theology—American Association of Theological Schools.
Veterinary medicine—American Veterinary Medical Association.

NOTE.—The U. S. Office of Education does NOT accredit or approve any educational institutions.

CONTROL

The legal control of institutions (NOT support or affiliation) is shown for each institution with the following abbreviations:

C.—City or municipal government—public control.
Church—Refer to abbreviations—denominational control.
Co.—County government—public control.
Dist.—District government—public control.
Nat.—National or Federal Government—public control.
P.—Private; independent of church or state—private control.
St.—State government—public control.
Ter.—Territorial government—public control.
Twp.—Township government—public control.

ENROLLMENT

For each institution for which data are available, an indication is given of the total enrollment of regular students of college grade, excluding extension, correspondence, and subcollegiate students, in the fall of 1946. The symbols used are as follows:

I. 10,000 or more students.
II. 5,000 to 9,999 students.
III. 2,500 to 4,999 sudents.
IV. 1,000 to 2,499 students.
V. 500 to 999 students.
VI. Fewer than 500 students.

[1] Discrepancies between this table and the corresponding one for 1946–47 are due in part to actual changes in numbers and classification of institutions and in part to a change in the method of counting institutions. Branch institutions, counted in 1946–47, are this year listed wth their parent institutions and omitted from the summaries. The 1946–47 total, adjusted for comparison to the 1947–48 total, is 1,685.
